

The Emmy Destinn Young Singers Concert

Thursday 6 June 2019 at 7.30 pm
22 Mansfield Street, W1G 9NR

Arias and songs by Dvořák, Janáček and Smetana introduced by Veronika Hyks and performed by finalists of the 2017 Emmy Destinn Foundation Young Singers Awards.

Zita Syme	soprano	(1st Prize)
Erika Mädi Jones	soprano	(Dvořák Society for Czech and Slovak Music Prize)
Samuel Lom	bass	(Finalist)
Panaretos Kyriatidis	pianist	(Lady Grenfell-Baines Accompanist's Prize)

An evening of Czech music at the beautiful salon of arts philanthropists Bob and Elisabeth Boas. They host musical evenings which provide performance opportunities to young artists as well as raising funds for the Nicholas Boas Charitable Trust, which was set up to help musicians at the start of their careers.

General Information

The evening starts with drinks at 7pm, and the concert begins at 7.30pm. There is a short interval and the evening will close with drinks and canapés.

Tickets

Concert only £20

Concert with drinks and canapés £30

£10 discount for students and under 18s

All artists give their services free and the prices above payable to The Nicholas Boas Trading Co Ltd only go to covering the catering costs. Separate donations to The Nicholas Boas Charitable Trust or other charities are welcome but strictly optional.

Please book by email – boas22m@btinternet.com

If you do not have email then please phone 020 7436 0344 or write to 22 Mansfield Street, London W1G 9NR. We do not issue tickets but you will get confirmation of your booking.